Dupaco continues to work in your best interest

Report from the President & CEO - Joe Hearn

Credit unions were created to fulfill a public purpose:

- ▶ Provide a source of credit at a fair and reasonable rate of interest.
- ▶ Encourage habits of thrift among its members.
- ▶ Provide an opportunity for its members to use and control their money on a democratic basis to improve their economic and social conditions.

Dupaco continues to pursue and fulfill this mission to serve and enrich the lives of our members through a variety of tools and services:

Reaching your goals

We recently created a Savings Goal tool within Shine Online and Mobile Banking. This tool, designed to help save for future expenses, provides a customizable plan to help you reach your goals. What are you saving for?

If your goal is homeownership, our Mortgage Tracker tool helps you monitor the progress of your mortgage or refinancing process.

Credit coaching

Dupaco's Great Credit Race showed members how using the right tools can improve their financial positions.

The six-month competition provided an opportunity for the 12 racers, and their observers, to gain a better understanding of how credit works and how it impacts every stage of life.

While this competition boasted only one lucky winner, everyone came out ahead, learning how to build their credit to gain access to better rates in the future. Learn more at dupaco.com/GreatCreditRace.

Fraud protection

Protect yourself from fraud with tools like Dupaco's free eNotifiers, Bright Track credit monitoring and Card Security, which allows you to quickly disable your Dupaco cards if they're lost, stolen or compromised.

Learn more about Dupaco's fraud-protection tools at dupaco.com/protection.

With better rates, fewer fees and Dupaco-exclusive perks like Thank Use, please know that we continually work hard and advocate in your best interest. Members tell us that's the reason they joined Dupaco in the first place.

It is our honor and privilege to serve you.

Winner shares her credit-building secrets

We have a winner in Dupaco's Great Credit Race! The six-month battle to build credit ended with Emily in first place with a credit score of 725. For her efforts, she won $1,000. Second-place finishers Chuck and Sophia both raised their scores to 721 and received $500 each.

All 12 racers received a Dupaco Visa credit card and one-on-one credit and budget coaching.

"Whether you're brand new to credit or have had some bumps in the road, the race shows that you can do it, too, and we're here to help," said Dupaco's Noah Kachelski, who coached the winner.

Emily credits two credit-building strategies for giving her the edge:

- Charge only what you can afford to pay back.
- Pay off your credit card balance as soon as it posts in Shine.

She charged anywhere from $5 to $50 each month, using her Visa card to pay for purchases she already planned to make.

"I'm going to keep using my credit card the same way since it's been working for me so far," she said.

Avoid college application scams with these tips

dupaco.com/fraud

If you're the parent of a college-bound student, you've likely started to wade through financial aid options with your child.

As you prepare for their college journey, watch for scams targeting students:

College test prep material "offer"

Scammers might contact you claiming to be from the College Board, which is responsible for PSAT and SAT tests.

"They call or email you, asking for credit card numbers so they can send PSAT prep materials that the student has supposedly requested," according to the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC and the College Board warn:

- ▶ Know that the College Board never asks you to give credit card, bank account or password information over the phone or via email.
- ▶ Before you give up your money or your personal information, research the company online. Search for its name plus the word "scam" or "complaint," and read about others' experiences.

Charge fee for FAFSA

Many websites look like the Free Application for Federal Student Aid's website, except you're charged a fee to complete the application. Never pay the fee. The legitimate application is free.

You can visit the FAFSA website at studentaid.ed.gov/sa/fafsa.

Guaranteed scholarship or financial aid

Legitimate companies won't guarantee scholarship money or financial aid.

Charge a fee for scholarships

Avoid applying for scholarships that charge an application fee or a redemption fee.

20 scholarships to be awarded

Getting ready to start your college journey? Dupaco will award 20 nonrenewable scholarships totaling $40,000 for the 2020–21 academic year.

The scholarships, funded by the Dupaco R.W. Hoefer Foundation, will help:

- ▶ 10 first-time, full-time incoming students who will attend an accredited four-year college or university for an undergraduate degree.
- ▶ 10 first-time, incoming students who will attend an accredited community college, trade school or technical college for a degree or certificate program.

Is leasing or buying a car right for you?

To lease or to buy? Choosing how to acquire your vehicle will impact not only your finances but your lifestyle. Understanding how leasing and buying a new car differ can help you decide which is the right fit for you. Still unsure? You can contact a Dupaco expert for guidance by calling 800-373-7600.

LEASING

Ownership

You don't own the vehicle. You pay to use it during the term of the lease and return it at the end—unless you then opt to purchase it. A lease typically lasts half the duration of a car loan. If you then buy the vehicle, you might incur expenses beyond the purchase price.

Depreciation

A typical vehicle is worth about half its original sale price after four or five years. This decline is what you're paying for when you lease a vehicle.

Payments

Because you're not buying the whole car, monthly payments are generally 30–60% lower.

Mileage

The typical mileage limit is 10,000 miles per year. But most people drive at least 15,000 miles annually. The terms of your lease will usually charge between 15 and 30 cents for every mile you go over the limit per year.

Maintenance

Repairs and maintenance are usually covered in the lease, which can save you up to $1,200 a year. Since you're borrowing the car, excessive wear and tear might cost you at the end of your lease.

BUYING

You own the vehicle free and clear after your financial obligations are met. It will be yours to keep, sell or trade in for your next vehicle.

A new car will depreciate an average of $3,400 per year during the financing term.

Monthly loan payments are higher, because you're paying for the entire purchase price while also building equity.

Mileage limits are not a problem—it's your car. But as you put more miles on it, the resale value decreases.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa—Tired of renting, Ryan Bubenyak and Heather Staton dreamed of buying their first house. They wanted a home they could call their own. But homeownership was always out of their reach.

"We had been renting for what seemed like forever," Bubenyak said. "We knew what we had to do, but we'd never been very good at it."

When the couple moved to Cedar Rapids and joined Dupaco about two years ago, they learned an encouraging lesson: Homeownership was possible—and sooner than they imagined.

Bubenyak and Staton turned to their new credit union for guidance. Dupaco's Erin Douglass, who is Bubenyak's sister, had them start by creating a budget to help them brush up on bill management.

Douglass helped the couple create multiple You-Name-It Savings accounts so they could automatically and systematically set aside money for their expenses and saving goals. They created an account for rent and utilities, one for daycare expenses and another for student loans.

"I've never been a very good budgeter per se, and it has helped tremendously to be able to separate our bills into different accounts," Bubenyak said.

Once the couple got a handle on their budget, Douglass told them about a unique partnership opportunity to help them save for their down payment.

Through the credit union's MoneyMatch program, the savings of a participant are matched by a grant from the Dupaco RW Hoefer Foundation. The program helps participants purchase a wealth-building asset, such as a home.

Once again, the couple saved automatically and systematically, with a predetermined amount coming out of every paycheck to fund their MoneyMatch account. After two years of saving—and receiving matching funds from the Foundation—they were ready to buy their first house.

They did so in September.

"Honestly, without MoneyMatch, we probably wouldn't have been able to buy a house yet," Bubenyak said. "The credit union has done a ton for us that I never thought they'd be able to do, especially with the MoneyMatch. With any service we use, they help as much as they can."

Curious whether we can positively impact your financial future? Stop in to any branch, call us at 800-373-7600 or email service@dupaco.com.

Is the IRS really calling you?

PROTECTION CONNECTION

dupaco.com/fraud

Have you received a phone call from a forceful, intimidating "IRS agent"? Fraudsters often impersonate Internal Revenue Service agents to try to collect your financial details—and money.

It's the No. 1 scam being reported to the Federal Trade Commission. During the first half of 2019 alone, people filed nearly 73,000 reports about Social Security impostors, according to the FTC.

The IRS says it will never:

- ▶ Ask for credit, debit or prepaid card information over the phone.

If you get a phone call from someone claiming to be from the IRS, and you think you might owe taxes, hang up and call the IRS at 800-829-1040. If you suspect you're a victim of fraud, contact Dupaco immediately at 800-373-7600.

- ▶ Insist you use a specific payment method for tax obligations.
- ▶ Request immediate payment over the phone.
- ▶ Take enforcement action immediately following a conversation.

Your caller ID might even show the real Social Security Administration's phone number. Don't be tricked—scammers can fake their phone numbers, too.

If you get one of these calls, you can report it to the FTC at ftc.gov/complaint.

DON'T FORGET

Have you moved?
Changed phone numbers?

Don't forget to update your contact information on file at Dupaco.

If the contact information we have for you is out of date, we might not be able to relay important account-related information to you, and it could affect your ability to activate your Dupaco credit and/or debit card.

To update your contact information, stop by any Dupaco branch or call 800-373-7600.

Are you driving safely this winter?

By Tim Bemis | Insurance services manager

We're partway through another winter.

It's easy to become complacent about snow and slush. But it's important to always respect the weather conditions and drive responsibly.

Not only can this help save lives, but it can save you money. Responsible driving reduces traffic collisions, in turn reducing auto insurance claims. The fewer claims, the less everyone pays for coverage.

Are you following these winter-safe driving habits?

- ▶ Check the local weather forecast. Know what temperatures and weather conditions to expect before you drive so you can decide whether you should leave earlier or possibly delay your trip.
- ▶ Slow down. You'll get there when you get there. The faster you drive, the more energy it takes to slow down—especially when roads are slick.

- ▶ Avoid tailgating. When it's slippery, stay at least eight to 10 seconds behind the vehicle in front of you.

- ▶ Be cautious on bridges. Bridges and overpasses freeze first.

- ▶ Know the limits of four-wheel drive. Four-wheel drive will help you start moving at an intersection. But it's four-wheel drive, not four-wheel stop—it won't help you slow down on ice.

- ▶ Skip cruise control. Turn off cruise control when it's slippery to help you stay in control of your vehicle.

- ▶ Pause first. If you're traveling too fast for weather conditions, first remove your foot from both pedals. You can lose control of your vehicle by braking immediately or braking too hard.

- ▶ Understand your brakes. Do you have regular or antilock brakes? With regular brakes, you need to pump them to avoid losing control of your vehicle. With antilock brakes, you need to push down the pedal and hold it (even if it makes an unsettling sound).

- ▶ Watch for tire spray. Watch for vehicles preparing to pass you so you can turn on your wipers in advance to help keep your windshield clear.

- ▶ Stay in your happy place. Don't weave in and out of traffic. Only change lanes when it's practical to do so—and well ahead of your exit or turn.

- ▶ Stay safe during a collision. If you're involved in a collision, stay in your vehicle. If you must exit, do so on the curb or shoulder side. Depending on your situation, you'll need to call family, police, your insurance agent and/or a tow truck.

Stronger together: The importance of advocacy

POLICY FOR THE PEOPLE

As part of the credit union movement, we're stronger together when we make our collective voice heard.

That's because state and federal legislation often affect the benefits you receive as a member-owner of Dupaco—impacting the way you save, borrow and manage your money.

"Being part of a financial cooperative means you have a vested interest in your credit union," said Dupaco's Tammy Wood. "Whatever happens to your credit union happens to you."

Learn how you can stay engaged during this year's legislative session and lend your voice to the credit union movement at dupaco.com/PoliticalAction.

HOW TO

Create a successful budget for a new year

2020

With the holidays in the rearview mirror and a new year in front of you, you might be ready for a fresh financial start. A budget can help you make sure you have enough money for your needs today and your goals for the future.

Here are four tips to help you create—and stick to—a budget in the new year:

dupaco.com/budgeting

1 Keep it simple. Don't make your budget so complicated that you don't use it. Download Dupaco's budgeting worksheet at dupaco.com/budgeting to help you get started.

2 Find a way that works for you. The easier your budget is for you to use, the more successful you'll be.

3 Be honest and accurate. Be realistic about what you spend each month. Otherwise, it will be difficult to manage your spending.

4 Track your budget. If you're spending money and not including it on your budget, your budget won't work.

DID YOU KNOW?

Did you know these money fun facts?

By Michael Poppen | Financial consultant

Rather than inundate you with more rhetoric on budgeting, retirement planning, life insurance and the like, we at DFS thought it might be nice to start the year with some fun facts about money.

Here are a few of our favorites:

- The flu virus can live on a bill for up to 17 days!
- Parker Brothers prints about $30 billion in bills for its popular board game Monopoly every year.
- Today, 92% of the world currency is digital.
- All 50 states are listed on top of the Lincoln Memorial on the back of a $5 bill.

- After World War I, Germans experienced a period of hyperinflation where the value of their currency plummeted. As a result, they used their bills as wallpaper.

- A penny costs more to manufacture than it's worth—costing the government about 2 cents to make one penny.

- It supposedly takes about 4,000 double-folds (back and forth) before a bill will tear. Which makes sense, as worn-out bills are shredded and recycled into shingles and fireplace logs!

With that, I'll leave you with a quote from Mark Twain: "The secret of getting ahead is getting started."

Whether your goal is financial or otherwise, the simple solution is to just get moving in that direction. The rest of it will come. Wishing you a healthy, happy and prosperous 2020!

Make a New Year's resolution to review your estate plan

By Jim Liddle | Vice president

Some suggest reviewing your estate plan every four or five years and upon major life events, such as the birth of a child or grandchild, death of a loved one, marriage or divorce.

Estate planning is all about communicating your wishes, maximizing what goes to your heirs and minimizing taxes and fees.

Resolve to review your plan this year to ensure your wishes are carried out:

1. Beneficiary designations: For your retirement accounts (IRA, 401(k), 403(b), annuities and life insurance contracts), ensure the designations match your intentions. Beneficiary designations dictate how those assets are distributed—no matter what your will or trust states.

2. Charitable planning: If you intend to leave any assets to a charity upon your passing, there might be tax-efficient ways to do so.

3. Roth conversion planning: Depending on many factors, you might elect to do some Roth IRA planning to maximize what goes to the next generation and minimize the total tax burden.

4. Investment planning: Do your investments reflect your legacy goals? Some invest with a goal to maximize what will be there for their heirs, while others are more concerned with principal preservation. Are your goals reflected in your investments?

5. Estate-planning document: Determine whether a will or trust is the appropriate estate-planning vehicle for you to minimize fees upon your passing. Understanding the pros and cons of each will allow you to make an informed decision.
